

Tuesday is last day for OPH flu vaccination clinics for 2009

Contributed by Editor
Monday, 21 December 2009

Ottawa – Tuesday, December 22 is the final day for Ottawa Public Health’s roving H1N1 and seasonal vaccination clinics for 2009.

Recent H1N1 flu virus activity has decreased in Ottawa. However, the H1N1 virus remains unpredictable and will be in the community in the foreseeable future. Residents are encouraged to get the H1N1 and seasonal flu vaccinations to provide themselves the best protection against the flu this holiday season.

In addition, both vaccines are also available at many local doctors’ offices and community health care centres. Here are the locations for the remaining clinics for tomorrow.

December

Location

Time

21

Ottawa City Hall

110 Laurier Ave. West

2:30 p.m. to 8:30 p.m.

21

Le Patro Community Centre

40 Cobourg St.

10:30 a.m. to 4 p.m.

21

Richmond Arena

6095 Perth St.

2:30 p.m. to 8:30 p.m.

22

Ottawa City Hall

110 Laurier Ave. West

2:30 p.m. to 8:30 p.m.

22

Jim Durrell Arena

1265 Walkley Rd.

2:30 p.m. to 8:30 p.m.

For more information, visit ottawa.ca/health or contact the Ottawa Public Health Information Line at 613-580-6744.